

A photograph of an antique market stall. The stall is filled with various pieces of furniture and art. On the left, there is a large wooden cabinet with glass doors and a wooden chest of drawers. In the center, there is a white armchair and a wooden table. On the right, there is a green sofa with a white fur throw and a wooden coffee table. The walls are decorated with framed pictures and a large ornate mirror. The floor is covered with a patterned rug.
